

Mobile Health moves at your speed

Get the answers you need in real time, on the go

You're always on the move, juggling responsibilities. You don't wait for information to find you. You get what you need, when you need it – and appreciate regular reminders to keep you on track. That's where our Mobile Health app for smartphones and tablets comes in.

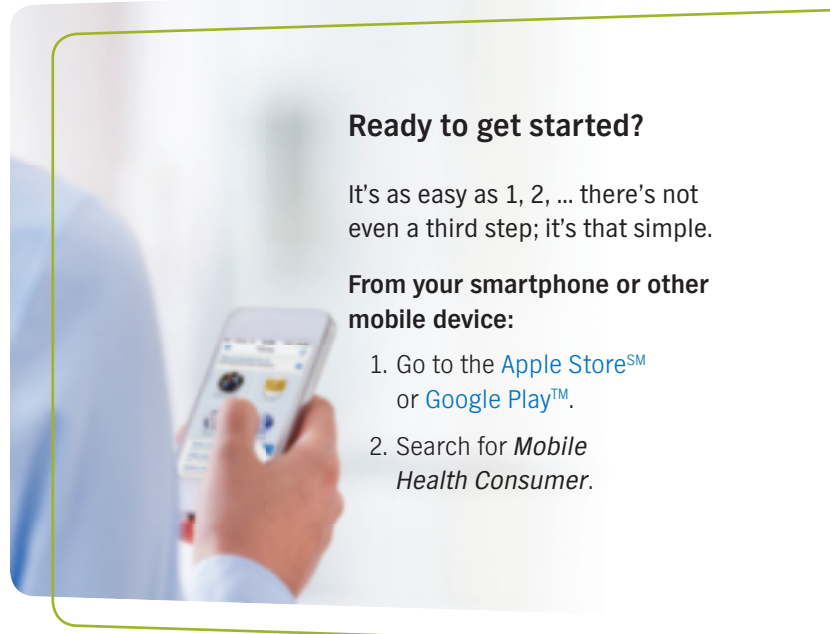

Whether you're looking for a nearby urgent care clinic, pulling up your virtual ID card or connecting with a doctor on your phone, we're with you every step of the way. And when you need guidance, we can be a few steps ahead, too.

Mobile Health is more than just another health tool. It's technology that brings together our health plan data with programs, resources and personalized content specific to your health.

One app, many applications

With Mobile Health, you can:

- See a doctor face-to-face in minutes online.
- Record activities to qualify for health incentives.
- Track your biometric levels, such as body mass index (BMI), blood pressure and cholesterol levels.
- Get reminders about scheduling checkups and important tests.
- Receive suggestions and tips for managing health conditions like diabetes or asthma.
- Check on the status of your claims.
- Keep track of your deductible and out-of-pocket charges.
- Estimate your costs for a procedure or treatment.
- Find a doctor or facility in your plan.
